

Women & Children Prosperity Initiative

CSIR-NBRI's dehydrated floral craft technology is being taken up under the Women and Children Prosperity Initiative of the Rural Development Programme. Under this initiative, Training-cum-workshops are organized for women empowerment and children welfare in collaboration with reputed NGOs. One such programme was organized on 16th March 2011 for the orphan female inmates of Manisha Mandir, a social welfare organization, based at Lucknow. Twenty two students attended the training programme, which focused on dehydrated floral and foliage crafts. Later on, a garden for dehydrated floral crafts was developed in their campus. Such programmes have been organized for women entrepreneurs, housewives, students, etc in large groups and also for individuals.

Training Course for inmates of Manisha Mandir

Workshop for Women Entrepreneurs

Workshop for school children

Workshop for street children

